12-C Tried to carry this message to other sex addicts

What has been my experience in telling my story to other sex addicts?

What spiritual benefits have I received by telling others about recovery? What have I heard from others / read in recovery literature about the spiritual benefits of doing step 12 work?

What have I read about doing step 12 work when struggling? Have I had that happen in my life and what was the benefit I received?

Considering the hope that I have received and my experiences in recovery, what hope can I offer to a sex addict who is not in recovery?

Tradition states that it is best to work with someone else in the program when telling my story to a new person. What can I get by having someone else help me tell others about the program?

What can I do to continue to tell others about recovery?

What have I learned about who not to talk to?

How have I learned to temper my expectations of how others will respond – even those who talk enthusiastically about what they have heard?
